The American Sports Academy provides a warm, fun, traditional atmosphere for campers ages 7-17, in one of the world's finest resorts, perched on the Caribbean Sea with facilities and amenities unmatched by any other camp or school in the world. "Our program is based upon reaching the next level, whether that be in the elementary and middle school ages, high school, or for a camper who aims to play in college or go on to play professionally," said Marc White, President and Executive Director of ASA. "We take pride in knowing our campers will be receiving the best in instruction from our top of the line professional staff and our partnership with Casa de Campo only furthers that with its top-notch service and sporting facilities."

The setting includes 13 Har-Tru tennis courts, three Championship Golf Courses, Equestrian Center, watersports and much more. Campers stay in modern, air-conditioned guestrooms and enjoy daily meals prepared and served by the resort's culinary staff. Campers have use of all the appropriate facilities within the ultra-secure gated resort, while under close and friendly staff supervision at all times.

"We are proud to have a partner like the American Sports Academy," said Rafael Torres, President of Casa de Campo. "Together we are creating the ultimate opportunity both in training and environment for young athletes around the world."

Casa de Campo's 7,000 verdant acres also offer privacy for the affluent and the promise of pure personalization. For more than 40 years, this discreet enclave has been a favored escape for the world's financial moguls, politicians, and Hollywood's elite.
