

Luxury Caribbean Resort enhances world class clay shooting facilities with new all-weather five stand

Casa De Campo Resort and Villas, a luxury resort in the Dominican Republic, has enhanced its world class shooting facilities with the introduction of a new all-weather five stand building.

The resort has already earned a reputation as the top clay pigeon shooting venue in the Caribbean, but has this week introduced the new facility to offer its customers a truly world class clay shooting opportunity.

Set amid tropical sunshine and sparkling turquoise waters, Casa De Campo is home to a 245-acre Shooting Club nestled in the dense foliage of the Dominican jungle. Shooting aficionados can experience more than 200 stations for trap, skeet and sporting clays, but the Club is also known for featuring one of the largest shooting towers in the world, standing stately at 110 ft.

Jason Kycek from Casa De Campo commented “As an alternative to a traditional sporting clays course, the "Five Stand" comes to the fore. This relatively new game in the shooting world has it all. If you were to put trap, skeet, and sporting clays in a blender, Five Stand would pour out. Five stand is more exciting than trap and throws a wider variety of patterns than skeet. It's also faster and cheaper than sporting clays. It gives shooters the opportunity to work on shots simulating everything from fleeing rabbits and flushing quail to ducks dropping into a set of decoys.”

He continues “The shooting centre is just one of the many facilities on offer to those visiting Casa De Campo. While many guests visit purely on the strength of our shooting facilities, at the other end of the scale, many more have never picked up a gun. Our facilities are designed to meet the needs of all of our guests, whatever their level of experience.”

The newly built and beautifully landscaped stand has been developed to exacting National Sporting Clays Association Rules. It also offers spectator seating, full wheelchair access and has floodlight capability.

A wide variety of targets can be thrown to suit the complete novice right up to the advanced shooter. All the stands are undercover so guests can still shoot clays even on the wettest of days. More experienced guests will even be able to try a night shoot.

A team of instructors offer basic shooting orientation as well as advanced instruction if requested. Gun rental and ammunition are also available on-site. All-inclusive packages include one round of 25 shots skeet/trap shooting. Additional shots are bookable locally.

Spanning 7,000 tropical acres on the southeastern coast of the Dominican Republic, Casa de Campo's facilities include a 370-slip Marina & Yacht Club, Polo & Equestrian Club, private beach and tennis centre with 13 courts. This luxury Caribbean destination - a Leading Hotel of the World - is also home to three championship golf courses designed by Pete Dye, including Teeth of the Dog, the #1 ranked golf course in the Caribbean.
